— car
coming from olympia, you have a couple options. you can take I-5 north to tacoma and take the bremeron exit to hwy 16.
+ there is a toll on the way back down thru tacoma. + you can also drive north on the 101 towards shelton. then, take the 3 to bremeron. there is no toll this route.
if you're coming to bremeron from the east side of seattle, you can drive to seattle and take the ferry.

— ferry

hop on at seatac airport and ride to bremeron 76 @ burwell + mont. see schedule and pricing at kitsapairporter.com

there is limited free two hour street parking on and around callow ave. do not park in the alley behind the charleston as the congestion can cause issues.
if you are comfortable walking, please consider parking a few blocks north near the q mart or on wycoff, montgomery, or rainier to allow priority parking on callow for those who have mobility needs from the ferry terminal you can take the 212 to callow ave. you can also drive, bike, or walk. see you there!

A Visitors Guide to the May 4 Kitsap Anarchist Bookfair!!

Join us on May 4th for the first ever Annual Kitsap Anarchist Bookfair! Bookfairs have conventionally been a unique space for committed anarchists, the anarcho-curious, and sympathizers from a variety of backgrounds to come together to discuss and encounter anarchist ideas and practices.

Tabling, performances, and talks will be split between a few of the venues along Callow Ave in so-called Bremerton, Washington, on occupied Suquamish, Twana, and S'Klallam territory. Callow has historically been an area where vice has been sequestered, but in the more recent couple of decades the torch of anarchy has been kept alive in the punk scene surrounding the Charleston on Callow Ave.
